

Invitation to participate in a research study

Examining the Characteristics of People with Traumatic Brain Injury from Marginalized and Underserved Communities in Ontario

About the Study

- We are doing this study because we want to better understand who uses the fund, their health and social needs. This information will help us advocate for better services.
- We know there are many people with brain injuries who have experienced violence and abuse, and we know they usually don't get proper care and services.
- Learning about people's experiences and needs can help to advocate for better help.

Who can participate?

- Youth and adults age 16 and above who have applied to the Compassionate Justice Fund

What is involved?

- Approximately 1 hour of your time to answer some questions

Contact Information
